Finding the Power to Feel Better...Inside & Out

The Woodlands Wellness & Cosmetic Center

Mood swings, loss of energy, low libido, depression, weight gain... It's all part of getting older, right? Not so, says Sakina Davis, M.D. of The Woodlands Wellness & Cosmetic Center.

"Most people think feeling bad is a normal part of the aging process," says Dr. Davis. "As a result, far too many men and women suffer needlessly with symptoms of hormonal decline when effective solutions are readily available."

To give patients access to these effective solutions through a full complement of therapeutic medical and cosmetic services, Dr. Davis, a board-certified family physician, founded The Woodlands Wellness & Cosmetic Center. "We provide a holistic, integrated approach to medical care and complete well-being," Dr. Davis explains. "In addition to our unique focus on disease prevention and the restoration of optimum hormonal balance, we blend leading-edge medicine together with a broad range of physician-supervised cosmetic procedures to treat all the signs of aging — inside and out."

Restoring Your Inner Health

What began as an effort to give menopausal patients a better alternative to the disappointing results of synthetic hormones and anti-depressants has become the core of Dr. Davis' practice at The Woodlands Wellness & Cosmetic Center: natural, holistic healthcare. With exhaustive patient history evaluations, on-site laboratory services and a comprehensive approach to complete well being, Dr. Davis helps men and women reclaim optimal health through individualized medical care.
